

MIQUEL BURGUEIRA

Despite being in the early stages of my career in the ASIX world, I have always been a sponge for information, soaking up knowledge and experience at every opportunity. In particular, I have discovered a passion for cybersecurity and other areas of ASIX that has further motivated me in my educational and professional journey. My focus on ASIX as a whole has allowed me to gain extensive knowledge in fields such as system administration, cybersecurity, network management, and more. While I am still in the process of learning, I am more motivated than ever after finding my true calling. I am committed to continued growth and making a positive contribution to any project or team I am part of.
